PRESIDENT WILL BE UNABLE TO PREVENT A STRIKE

Such is the Belief Expressed By President Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers -- Proposition Submitted By Federal Board

(Special to The Herald)
New York, Aug. 11.—The Federal board of Mediation and Conciliation today presented to the railway employees' leaders a proposition that has been formulated as a result of Thursday's conference with the railroad heads. The proposition was immediately taken under consideration by the Union leaders. The Federal mediators declined to make the proposal public until it had been accepted or rejected by the men, but intimated that if the railway brotherhoods favored it, peace would be assured.

"Does the proposal advocate arbitration?" one member of the board was asked.

"I cannot say now," was his reply.

The Brotherhood leaders are "hearing from home" today. They are receiving numerous requests from the rank and file not to "waste time" but to press for immediate settlement.

Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, declared it his belief today that President Wilson would be unable to prevent a strike. There are no indications of the breaking of the deadlock. It was admitted today by men from both sides.

WAR ORDERS MUST BE DELIVERED BEFORE END OF YEAR

(Special to The Herald)
London, Aug. 11.—A complete understanding having now been arrived at between the Allied governments as to the minimum requirements of each in munitions and ammunitions, further large orders for shells have just been dispatched to the United States, delivery to be made month by month up to the end of December. A significant condition of the contracts is that any deliveries not made by that date are to be cancelled. Some of the orders have been held back pending the decisions of the conference; others have been held owing to rumors arising out of the Mexican situation, that the United States government was negotiating large orders for steel, and that in consequence of their competition, a giant movement was being organized to raise the price of the metal. These rumors have now been found to be baseless.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN BASE REPORTED CAPTURED

Petrograd, Aug. 11.—It was reported here that the Austro-Hungarian base at Stanislaw has been captured by the Russians. Official advices received earlier put the Russian army only 2 miles from the city.

FRENCH GAIN MORE GROUND

By Night Attacks on Both the Somme and Verdun Fronts.

(Special to The Herald)
Paris, Aug. 11.—French attacks were made on both the Somme and Verdun front last night and at both places more ground was gained. The war office stated today that on the Somme front the French attacked northeast of Hardecourt where progress was made. In the Verdun section a sudden surprise attack was launched against the Germans at Hill No. 304 west of the Meuse. It was entirely successful. North of the Meuse the French guns were in action all night bombarding the German positions. This cannonade was carried out despite bad weather.

FISHING VESSELS WERE SEIZED

Dutch Commanders Must Sell Portion of Their Catch to Great Britain.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, Aug. 11.—Great Britain has seized 150 Dutch fishing vessels and is holding them at Kirkwall and other British ports, according to consular advices from The Hague, received by the Department of Commerce today. A commission has been sent from Holland to London to negotiate for the release of the vessels. The advices from the Hague state that it is understood there that Great Britain will not release the ships unless the commander of each one pledges to sell a portion of his catch to Great Britain.

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO TAKE ACTION

In the Case of Miss Sarah J. Farmer, Who Was Removed From the Cowles Sanitarium Last Week to Her Home in Eliot

Concord, Aug. 11.—Gov. Roland H. Spaulding, after a conference with Atty. Gen. Tuttle today, announced that at the present he would not take any action on the case of Miss Sarah J. Farmer, who was taken to Eliot, from the Cowles sanitarium in Portsmouth last week. Appeals to the governor to take action were made in letters by Ex-Senator W. E. Chandler, Councilor John Scammon of Exeter and George Hughes of Dover. Gov. Spaulding wishes to await the settlement of a case in Rockingham county relative to Miss Farmer before he takes any action in the matter.

WOMAN PREVENTS BAD ACCIDENT

Orders Boy to Flag Train With Her Sweater When Horse Falls on Track.

The thought and the quick action of a Dover woman, Kathie Keuchner, on Wednesday afternoon prevented what might have been a serious accident on the Portsmouth and Dover branch of the Boston and Maine railroad between Bellamy and Hilton stations.

This woman was driving to a camp near the first named station and while passing over the railroad crossing the horse she was driving, fell down on the track and she was unable to get him up. Realizing that a train from Portsmouth was due in a short time, she called a small boy by the name of J. Vachon, and taking off her red sweater directed the lad to run down the track and flag the train. The lad had hardly started when train No. 1145, leaving Portsmouth at 5.35, appeared in sight. Engineer Smith quickly saw the signal and brought the train to a stop, picking up the boy and taking him along to the crossing where the woman was still holding the head of the horse on the ground.

The train crew soon got in action and relieved the woman of her troubles by removing the horse from the crossing after a lot of hard work. Conductor Webster extended his thanks to the woman and the boy for the part they played in preventing what might have been a bad mixup.

STATE MUST DECIDE THE QUESTION

President Wilson Will Stand Pat on Suffrage Question.

Washington, Aug. 11.—President Wilson will "stand pat" on his declaration that the states and not the nation should decide the question of suffrage. He will not declare in favor of the proposed constitutional amendment, the White House said today, even though the women's party national conference now in session at Colorado Springs adopts resolutions condemning his candidacy. On behalf of the President the statement was made today that he espoused equal suffrage before he had even decided to become a candidate for re-election and he cannot change his position now to suit the leaders of the suffrage movement in the states where the women have the vote. The President's political managers would not be surprised should the women's party endorse the candidacy of Justice Hughes but they insisted today that this will add the President in many of the big eastern states while he will by no means abandon the hope that when he again publicly explains his position he will get a goodly percentage of the suffrage votes in the Pacific slope states.

The office was wrecked. The plaster on the ceilings and side walls was ripped off and the safe was blown into many pieces.

ENGAGEMENT WAS COSTLY TO THE AUSTRIANS

In Four Days' Engagement They Lose 75,000 Men, Not Including the Prisoners Taken By Italians

(Special to The Herald)
Rome, Aug. 11.—The mighty four days' battle which resulted in the capture of Gorizia by the Italians cost the Austro-Hungarians 70,000 men in killed and wounded, not counting the prisoners. The Austro-Hungarian army which fell back from the Isonzo has retired behind some of their second line positions taking their heavy guns with them. The Italian advance continues with great success. The number of prisoners taken is being increased every day.

EASY GAME CAPTURED BY Y. M. C. A. TEAM

Coal Company Defeated by Their Errors, 8 to 0, in Last Evening's Sunset League Game.--Jordan Held Batters to Two Hits.

The Y. M. C. A. administered a coat of whiteness to the Consolidation Coal Company in last evening's Sunset League game, scoring eight runs on their part on five hits and some errors. The game was called at the end of the fourth.

The winners scored in each of the first three innings, and were blanked only in the fourth, much to the surprise of the fans. In the last inning Zip Harrington was called to the mound to replace Driscoll. Driscoll going to short and Collins to second. Harrington pitched funny ball, and had difficulty in locating the plate. He was off on his altitude, also, but he was hit safely only once, Butler slugging one out for two bases. The other three batters were easy outs; one on a fly to left, one on a foul fly to the catcher and the third on a grounder to short.

Jordan pitched a heady game, passing the dangerous men, fanning four, and holding the C. C. C. batters to two hits; a triple by Harrington on his first time up, and a single by Kilpatrick. Jordan also made two hits in his two times at bat. O'Brien's triple to left for a real smash but it went for little as he was out attempting to stretch it into a homer. The Y. M. C. A. batters played all-tight ball throughout the game; no errors being charged against them.

The Game
1st inning.--Thompson fanned. Marden walked and stole second. Davis hit to Harrington. Butler hit toward first, the ball striking the base, for a single, and took second when Kilpatrick missed fielding it. Marden scoring. O'Brien hit to center for three bases, scoring Butler, and going out at the plate. McCabe to Collins to Woods, attempting to stretch it into a homer. TWO HITS, ONE ERROR, TWO RUNS.

Harrington hit to center for three bases. Collins grounded to Thompson and was thrown out at first. Harrington being held on third. Woods walked and was thrown out. Thomas to Thompson, attempting to steal. Harrington tried to score on a passed ball, and was out at the plate. Thomas to Jordan. ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

2d Inning.--Collins batted Thomas's grounder, and Thomas stole second. Jordan beat out a hit to Driscoll, advancing Thomas to third, and stealing second. Gorman hit to Driscoll and was safe on the fielder's choice. Driscoll making a wide throw to the plate, allowing Thomas and Jordan to score. Gorman advanced to second on the play. Currier was hit by a pitched ball. Thompson hit to center, and was safe. Gorman being out at third. McCabe to Collins to Rutledge. Marden flied to Driscoll and Currier was doubled out on a throw to Harrington. ONE HIT, TWO ERRORS, TWO RUNS.

Rutledge walked and stole. Kilpatrick and McCabe fanned. Kelley walked. Swanson out on a fly to Marden. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

3d Inning.--Davis was safe when Collins booted his grounder. Butler hit to Rutledge and was safe on his wide throw to first. Davis going to third. Butler stole second. O'Brien out at first. Driscoll to Kilpatrick. Thomas walked, hitting the bases. Jordan singled with a drive past the infield, scoring Davis and Butler. Gorman out at first. Driscoll to Kilpatrick. Currier walked. Thompson hit to Driscoll, the pitcher stumbling the grounder, and Thomas scored. Jordan scored on a wild pitch. Marden out on a bunted third. FOUR HITS, FOUR ERRORS, FOUR RUNS.

4th Inning.--Harrington pitching. Driscoll playing short. Collins playing second. Davis out on a foul fly to Woods. Butler hit to center for two bases. O'Brien flied to Kelly. Thomas out on a grounder. Driscoll to Kilpatrick. ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

during its first meeting in Cleveland when he hung up two new world records in a three heat race. Pacing in 2:00 1-4, 2:00 1-4 and 2:01 1-4 he fractured all existing average heats for a race by making the mark 2:00 92-100. Also he broke the world's record for average time for second and third heats by the same horse.

Those who watched Single G. in his thrilling performance declare that he wasn't called upon to loopee all the speed in his wonderful legs; that he can and will go faster, if that be true then Single G. ought to come close to Dan Patch's wonderful mark if he ever is turned loose in a flight against time with track and weather conditions in his favor.

Now that Fred Fulton is heavy-weight champion of the world, (according to Fred Fulton and his manager) what's he going to do about it?

Has Jeff Tesreau shot his big league bolt?

In 1913 he helped to pitch the Giants into the world series battling by winning 22 out of 35 starts. The following year he did even better, winning 26 out of 36 games for an average of 722.

Tesreau then was only 25 years old, powerful of physique, and mighty of arm. It seemed almost a certainty that he would be a winning pitcher for many years to come.

But in 1915 he started to seld. He won only 19 out of 35 games, which in a way can be regarded as a good showing on a tail-end team. But included in the victories of Tesreau were a number of extremely lucky wins. Also several of the games he was credited with came to him while serving an inning or two as relief pitcher.

Somehow or other the 1915 Tesreau wasn't the same "Dark Horse" of 1913 or 1914. The opposing wall-papers took many liberties with his twisters and quite frequently they drove him to the cooler.

And now, in 1916, with a heavy hitting club behind him, Tesreau continues to flounder along. He has pitched only two or three really good games this season. His delivery isn't puzzling as of yore. The other fellows instantly swat his flings to the distant corners of the park.

Is Tesreau at 27 really frayed, or is he just in a long slump that all pitchers encounter sooner or later?

Once upon a time a baseball bug went to the park, purchased a sack of peanuts, counted them and discovered more than 12 peanuts therein.

There are seven bits of advice dispensed by Harry Vardon, the English star, to those who aspire to perfection on the links:

"Keep your head still until the club has struck the ball.

"Don't be afraid to hit hard if you are swinging correctly.

"Let the movement of your swinging shoulder be steady and rhythmic; don't jerk.

"Keep the head steady; do not let the left heel turn outward--then the body can only wind up when the arms go back.

"Grip firmest with the thumb and forefingers--they are not so well adapted as the other fingers for the purpose of taking a strong hold and they are the most important of all for the purpose of the golf grip.

"Let the club head lead, the left wrist turning inward, the arms following the club head and the right hip next.

"Don't throw the arms forward as you start to come down as though you were mowing grass. Rather throw them back and let them come round in their own way from that point.

The rumor that gained circulation last week that Henry Ford had named Johnny Evers as a member of his peace committee has not been confirmed as yet.

"I haven't heard about it yet," replied Mr. Evers when approached on the subject, "but I feel worthy of--hey, guess a hat--no, make it two hats and a cannon. There goes my umpire."

Ed Walsh who used to save games for the White Sox now is saving women. The other day (hence time apt--ball king, heard shrieks emerging from Lake Michigan, into the boneless deep did husky Eddie leap and in less than five minutes he fished out two girls from drowning after their raft had been upset.

According to a well defined rumor that was in circulation at Hampton Beach yesterday the old Leavitt hotel at the north of the beach, one of the historic landmarks of the shore, has passed into the hands of a syndicate and radical changes will be made upon the place. The plan it is said, contemplate the razing of the present structure and the building of a large summer hotel which will be the largest at that beach, or along this part of the coast. For some time different parties have been looking at the property and early in the season Martin M. Lamoney, the well known political leader of ward 3, Boston, looked over the property with a view to purchasing the hotel. It is said that the purchaser in the present deal is a syndicate that controls a chain of hotels and restaurants through New England. The hotel has served thousands of patrons in its long history, and is widely known. It is situated on a commanding spot at the foot of Beach's Head and makes an excellent site for a summer hotel.

The heavy northeaster that raged yesterday put a halt to the outdoor beach life and drove the thousands of vacationists at the shore into the hotel parlors to while away the time in card playing, music, dancing, and other indoor diversions. The weekly display of fireworks had to be abandoned, although the band concerts were held despite the elements. Bathing was forbidden by an angry sea that was caused by the high north east wind which threw over the beach a chill that was suggestive of November. The surf made a beautiful sight to look upon especially on the ledges, where it dashed into a foam and spray and made wonderful pictures. At White's Island the high run came in upon the mainland and covered a large section under water. On the recession of the tide many fish brought in on the tide were left on the sands and the cottagers got food for their supper easily.

The situation that has developed here the past week in the scarcity of rooms for visitors has brought attention to the need of further hotels or rooming places. Saturday and Sunday hundreds left the beach unable to get a room and were forced to go to Portsmouth and other places for accommodations. "I could have let 100 more rooms than I had at my disposal Saturday night," said the proprietor of one of the leading beach hotels recently. It was the same story all along the beach. The beach is undoubtedly suffering in reputation from the fact that the visitors who came here are finding trouble in getting accommodations. The demand for carnival week from the present outlook will test the capacity of the beach in a more decided manner than last week's crowd. Nearly every cottage on the beach is let for that week, and there are few bookings available at any of the hotels.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Farley of Dover are registered at the Ashworth for a short vacation period.

Mrs. Lloyd Stevens of Sandownville has been a member of the beach colony the past week.

Mrs. Dennis J. Dowd and Miss Margaret and Helen Dowd of Manchester are recent arrivals at the New Imperial.

E. C. Spurling of Dover was among the corte of people of that city who have been enjoying the life at Hampton.

C. A. Metcalf of Lancaster was a recent visitor at the beach.

Miss G. M. Smith of Nashua was among the August sojourners at this resort.

John L. Parsons, a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has returned to his home in Ite, having attended the July encampment at Plattsburg.

Six teams competed for the honors and the scores were close. A large number attended the games, the success of the first ladies' day held two weeks ago causing many to make an effort to be present. The scores for the mixed foursome were:

Auction Bridge was played in the club house during the afternoon, the favor being presented to Mrs. Benjamin Green for high honors. Owing to the wet condition of the courts it was found impossible to hold the tennis tournament for ladies and this event was postponed to another date.

The putting contest held on the ninth green in the evening was again one of the most interesting events on the program. The ladies' prize was captured by Miss Florence Ward and the gentlemen's prize by Hugh J. Robertson, Jr.

Boardman M. Randall took the honors in a close game in the gentlemen's sweepstake tournament. A basket lunch was served at the club, followed by dancing in the evening.

FRENCH TROOPS TAKE HOLIDAYS IN THE FIELD

A rather novel idea of a summer holiday for troops in the field is being realized by the French during the prevailing heat, which in treeless Macedonia is very severely felt. The officers commanding the units which are away from the front are ordered to arrange for ten men to have a ten days' suspension of work, so that while remaining, of course, with the regiment, all in turn will be allowed to knock off for that length of time and live under conditions of agreeable repose, reading novels, smoking cigarettes and playing cards, as if they were staying at a holiday camp in a time of peace. With proper organization the work of the various units will be carried on just the same, and there is no doubt that this measure will greatly benefit the health of the men.

In comparative freedom from malaria, the army is reaping the fruits of the through steps taken by the medical service last spring to destroy the breeding places of mosquitoes. A map was prepared showing every rivulet, pool and swamp. Some of the swamps were very large being a mile or so long, but Greek labor was engaged and the whole of them were drained off into running streams. Pools were filled up and anything that could not be filled up or drained was thoroughly sprayed. Special malaria officers have been appointed for each division who tour about constantly in the division areas looking for any forgotten spot where Anopheles might still hatch out.

It is an insidious feature of the climate of Salonika that in hot summer like this it has most of the characteristics of the tropics, but owing to its being situated in Europe, life is organized as if nothing more torrid were to be expected than in England. June, Sun helmets, smoked spectacles, and light drill clothes, have all had to be adopted, as the thermometer has climbed relentlessly higher. Troops are authorized now to do all of their work in their shirt sleeves and shorts and though it seemed curious at first to see even sergeant majors with collarless grey shirts, wide open at the neck and their badges of rank taken off their tunics and loosely tucked off to their arms, the effect on the whole is quite workmanlike. For the troops at the base there is great compensation this weather in sea bathing.

The waters of this lifeless gulf after receiving the refuse of scores of transports and warships for eight or nine months make the Thames off Woolwich quite pellucid in comparison, but nevertheless the sea every afternoon has the pink fringe of the bathing Tonnies. Up country, men have in many places dug small plunge baths alongside the fast dwindling streams. For cleanliness the English soldier is insatiable and a standing marvel of the native people, whose personal ablutions often cease entirely with the bath given them at Bap-tism. Lucky are troops stationed near the fresh, cool waters.

JAPANESE CELEBRATE NEW RUSSIAN TREATY

Tokyo, August 10.—In all the big centers of Japan public gatherings have been held in celebration of the completion of the Russo-Japanese alliance. These have invariably taken the same form—a reception and banquet given by the mayor and telegrams of congratulation to the Japanese and Russian governments. In the evening lantern processions were held to give the populace a share in the fun. The Russian embassy in Tokyo, a building with many different experiences, has had the unusual sensation of being repeatedly besieged by cheering crowds roaring out banzais for the Czar and the brave Russian army.

All the demonstrations are of course inspired from above and are of interest principally as examples of how "public opinion" is operated. Business men however, are genuinely glad of the new alliance, as it opens up valuable concessions in Serbia and Manchuria, and also as they think, gives them leverage to protest against any further army increases, with their corresponding advances in the heavy taxation for military purposes which the country already groans under.

GREAT MISSISSIPPI BRIDGE NEARLY READY

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 11.—Almost fifty feet above the surface of the river on the very spot where De Soto stood when he first gazed upon the Father of Waters rests the eastern pier of the great Harahan bridge that spans the Mississippi river, connecting Tennessee and Arkansas.

The bridge, with its approaches, is three miles long, has cost $5,000,000 and will be fully completed this winter and formally dedicated next April. It will have required three years and a half to build. In its construction 23,000 tons of steel are used.

The spans over the channel of the river total one mile while on the Arkansas side there are two miles of steel and stone construction over the low river bank district.

The bridge is 55 feet above the highest water ever known. This will permit steamboats to pass under it at high water without passing through a draw. When the river is at extremely low stage the upper works of the bridge tower almost a hundred, and

Two railroad tracks cross the bridge besides a spacious driveway for wagons and automobiles and sidewalks for foot passengers. Wagon and foot traffic will pass free of charge.

The bridge is owned by the Arkansas and Memphis Railroad Bridge and Terminal company, which was formed by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad, the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern and the St. Louis and Southwestern Railroad.

The celebration of the completion of the bridge, which will be held next April, will be the occasion of the greatest pageant ever held in this part of the Mississippi valley. Assurances have been secured from the Navy Department that battleships, submarines and other vessels will participate in the celebration. Among the craft will be fete of historical character and the fact that the Memphis pier rests on or near the spot where De Soto discovered the river, will be made the subject of a celebration in honor of the great Spaniard.

"AMERICAN CROSS" FOR BRITISH HERO

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Aug. 10.—A fine piece of seamanship on the part of Major H. Burton, an officer of the Royal Engineers and superintendent of the Tyne mouth motor life boat, has been rewarded by the board of directors with their famous decoration known as "The American Cross of Honor."

Just how this title came to be given to the decoration is not known. The award is issued every two years to the person who has performed the most heroic deed in life saving during that period.

It was on October 30, 1914, took out the life boat to proceed to the rescue of the wrecked hospital ship Nobilis and in the face of a terrible gale and a raging sea brought the Tyne mouth motor boat all the way back to Whitby, in Yorkshire, with a number of the saved crew on board—a distance of 41 miles.

In the course of this wonderful voyage the major kept up the hearts of all on board and navigated the boat through the night and storm unaided by coast lights or any other means of reaching his objective. The coast lights of course were extinguished on account of the war.

JAPANESE EMPEROR HAS ENORMOUS WEALTH

Tokyo, Aug. 10.—The Japanese Imperial family has a fortune of $260,000,000. The Emperor receives in addition a yearly allowance of $15,000,000 from the state.

The figures are taken from a Japanese source and their accuracy is guaranteed. The capital is made up of shares in various gilt-edge undertakings.

PRESIDENT MAY ACT TO AVERT RAILROAD STRIKE

MR. WILSON AS LAST RESORT
MAY TAKE HAND IN TRAIN MEN TROUBLE.

New York, N. Y., Aug. 10.—If the efforts of the national board of mediation and conciliation fail to avert the threatened strike of 400,000 railroad men it is possible that President Wilson may be appealed to by the railroad officials to personally use his influence to stop a tie-up of the railroads of the country. This statement was made by a representative of the railroad managers who have been negotiating with the men since June 1.

The appeal to the President would be the last resort and would be taken only to save the nation from the trade paralysis that would follow a strike of the magnitude planned by the railroad men.

The efforts of the federal mediators to bring the factions together are well under way. Six hours after the railroad managers had served notice on the men that they would not withdraw their formal rejection of the workers' demand and had proposed federal mediation, the mediators and the managers were cloistered in secret session.

Mediation was recommended in lieu of arbitration under the Newlands act or by the Interstate commerce commission, proposals which had been rejected by the brotherhoods.

It was reported that the railroads stood steadfastly for the main feature of their "contingent proposition" made at the June conference, which conceded the shorter day but eliminated double compensation for different classes of services during the same work day. It was the failure of the representatives of the railroads and the unions to agree on the double compensation clause that brought the June conference to a sudden end and resulted in the strike vote.

Today, it was announced by G. W. W. Hanger, a member of the board, the mediators will hear the employees' side of the case. Then the board will hold alternate conferences with the opposing forces. Mr. Hanger said when a basis for an understanding has been reached, the railroads and men will be separately asked if they desire to place their cases in the hands of the board for final adjudication. If the answer is in the affirmative the contending forces will have to abide by the decision of the board.

A. B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, and official spokesman for the men, said that unless the railroads made satisfactory concessions, the men would refuse to bind themselves to federal mediation, and unless something else intervened, the general strike order would be enforced.

BECAUSE Anheuser-Busch rigorously obey every law known to Brew-Science.

BECAUSE they pay premium prices for extra fine northern barley.

BECAUSE they import only the cream of Saazer Hop crops, of which their giant Storage houses contain the world's largest supply.

BECAUSE they brew Budweiser in the finest and largest brewing and ageing plant in the world.

Automobile Camping.

This newspaper has more than once had good words to say for the camp as a place in which to spend a pleasant, healthful and inexpensive vacation, and from nothing it has ever said on this subject would it retract a single word. A comfortable camp in a mountain forest or on the banks of an inviting stream or lake at the time of year when the mercury is playing in the eighties and above is not to be scoffed at by people looking for physical comfort, mental relaxation and a renewal of all the physical forces for the labors and duties of another year.

Happily, this truth is becoming better known every day and the number of summer campers is increasing from year to year. The results are wholly good and the growing popularity of this form of vacation is not to be wondered at.

And now there is springing up a different form of camping which is growing rapidly in popularity. This is what may be called automobile camping. Parties start out in automobiles, carrying camping outfits and stop over night wherever they choose. The equipment is simple, but complete, and those who practice camping in this way are able to combine travel with the quiet and comforts of camp life most happily. The day's run may take them through the most populous centers, while the night finds them under canvas on mountain top, on hillside or in some quiet valley with all the charms of nature about them. They can stay as long as they wish or pack up in the morning and move on to new scenes.

The provisioning of an automobile camp is the simplest thing in the world. No packing and no trucking is necessary. There is no day's run that does not lead to sources of supply. The larder can be replenished where this can be done to the best advantage, some of the supplies coming directly from the farms, and the campers are as independent as the proverbial "hog on ice."

In this way people are able to see large sections of country in the course of a vacation of ordinary length and to enjoy all the comforts of camp life at the same time. It is in its way a wonderful combination. This form of camping is a sort of gypsy life with the objectionable features omitted, and is just the thing for those who like it. And it is plainly evident that from year to year more and more are coming to like it.

Announcements of county fairs are already beginning to appear in the newspapers, and the time for these is nearer than it seems, owing to the exceptional lateness of the spring. The summer of 1916 will be memorable for its brevity, but at that it will beat the summer of 1816 if tradition is correct. No one will be able to say of this summer that there was a frost in every month.

Several members of the American field ambulance corps in France have been honored for bravery and daring in caring for wounded soldiers in face of the gravest dangers. But it is a way the Americans have. When they put their hands to a work they go ahead with it in spite of danger or any other obstacle.

France follows England in blacklisting American business firms who trade with "the enemy" without waiting to see how the experiment of her exemplar works out. But as a fair or a circus is not complete without peanuts, so these countries may feel that it is proper to mix a few little things with the big.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis and Speaker Champ Clark have got their pictures in the papers as being the two best dressed men in Congress. This may be all right in its way, but it must not be forgotten that there are higher distinctions to be reached in that august body.

When a representative of Canada went through Candidate Hughes' car as it crossed the line into the Dominion he smilingly informed the party that the laws of Canada are no respecters of persons. Any country is fortunate of which this can be truthfully said.

A headline speaks of a day of sunshine and "reasonable" heat. In various parts of the country of late there have been numerous days of sunshine, while at times the heat has approached distressingly close to the unreasonable.

According to reports, business has been good at the bathing beaches of late in spite of the shark scare. It is also to be noticed that the victims of drowning far outnumber the victims of sharks.

Relationship doesn't count for much in the ordinary affairs of life. A cousin of the poet, James Russell Lowell, has just died at an advanced age in a county infirmary in Ohio.

Literally speaking, this is a hot campaign to date.

OUR IMPORTS BENEFIT THE RUSSIANS

(Special to The Herald)
Moscow, Aug. 11.—Recent developments show that the influx of American imports into Russia is exercising a great influence on economic conditions in this country. The following fact will help illustrate how far this influence goes:

Up to the time of these imports the people in Russia paid as much as rubles (about $20) for a pair of boots. Since the import increased, however, the price of a pair of boots has fallen to 12 rubles. Again, Russian co-operative societies have, for the same reason, dropped their prices to less than half the former overwhelming figures.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Merely Temporary

(From the Boston Traveler)

Matthew Hale is an impressionist in politics. He will support Mr. Wilson for re-election, but he will not accept the Democratic creed, and it may be that ere the campaign ends he will renege the actual head of the Democratic party. But he has announced his purpose to aid Mr. Wilson, and Mr. Wilson will benefit in this commonwealth to the extent of Mr. Hale's political influence here.

How short a time it seems since Mr. Hale was proclaiming Col. Roosevelt as the ordained and inspired leader in politics, or, rather, statesmanship? Mr. Hale knew that Col. Roosevelt was, after all, the Progressive party and carried its cardinal principles in his personal vocabulary, but Mr. Hale was glad to have it so. There was no more loyal supporter of the Progressive party than Hale of Massachusetts.

And now he has turned his back on Teddy, has refused to follow him, and goes forth to support Wilson, who to the colored is persona non grata and other things in plain English and more expressive to the average voter. Mr. Hale will be found in the coming campaign fighting side by side with the Democratic leaders in this city and state, and they will be glad to have him with them.

He will move on. For him there is a party more exclusive and less likely to be successful. He should by the beginning of next year be conferring with Eugene Noble Foss concerning the future and the principles of the Prohibition party.

"NON-PARTISAN" WILSON

I notice that Edward Mahan, the Harvard football player, is undertaking to organize the college men throughout the country in behalf of the re-election of President Wilson.

I don't believe there are many bright young men who are not Democrats that can be fooled into following Mr. Mahan in the line of work he is to take up.

This "non-partisan" idea of developing interest for Mr. Wilson has a slim basis in fact, because we have never had a more narrow, partisan, selfish sectional president than Mr. Wilson, whose every move has been for the South against the North, particularly directing his offensive course to politics against anything favorable to New York and New England.

I have never heard it said that Mr. Mahan has any knowledge of politics. I suppose he is in the game for what there is in it, and if he sees easy financial going during the next few months I don't suppose we should feel badly about it. The supporters will be the divided ones who will be enrolled under the banner of the Democrats on the false, misleading cry of "non-partisanship."

With Mr. Mahan taking up this line of work, I am wondering how long it will be before Johnny Deers, Hans Wagner, Tyra Cobb and others too numerous to mention, who have made their reputation in the field of sports, will be called upon to exercise "lying wedges" in favor of the man who has made the least reputation as president since the days of Buchanan.

In spite of the herculean efforts being made for re-election by Mr. Wilson and the small politicians who surround him, I believe he will be the worst defeated president in recent history. Mr. Mahan and all the college athletes of recent days will not be able to save him from his fate.—Bacon Hill, Boston, in N. Y. Sun.

CURRENT OPINION

American Needs Mobilization of the Spirit to Compete With Purified Europe.

All those who have watched with seeing eyes and understanding minds the sublime, though terrible, drama enacted in Europe have reported not that nations are being decimated or destroyed, but that new and greater nations are being born. Nation after nation rises to unexampled heights of self sacrifice, arduous toil, simple living and uncompromising dying. The spiritual as well as the material life of the nations at war is being transmuted into something different and more precious.

The spirit which has walked through this hell in Europe is the guide to the superstate which our own country is even now so anxiously seeking, for it is indeed searching for the way of salvation, from its inefficiencies of government, from its multimodal public and private wastes, from its class materialism, from its class hatreds, from its ignorance and its intemperance.

We shall have as a people to compete when this war is over with people who have been purified as by fire.

And if we are to rise to the struggle of that exalted competition we must take lessons of their "mobilization" of spirit, which has attended the mobilization of armies. Let us "mobilize" for defense first of that through which we can alone express the ideals of the new world, the nation itself, but beyond that, beyond the mere preservation and perpetuation of its life, mobilize for the assurance of the nobility of that life which we are prepared to defend.—By Dr. John N. Finley, President of University of State of New York.

HEARD AT THE NATIONAL CAPITOL

(Special Correspondence)

One of the earliest of President Wilson's declarations of policy was made in a speech at Mobile in which he sought to allay the feeling which he thought to lie in the mind of Latin-America regarding the ambitions of this government. With solemn emphasis he asserted that this country would never take over another square foot of territory to the south. Since then he has repeatedly reaffirmed this position. Yet he is now negotiating for the purchase of the Danish West Indies at a price of $25,000,000. It is another of his changes of mind—and we are not disposed to criticize him in this specific instance. The Danish West Indies are of strategic importance to the United States—especially since the construction of the Panama Canal. Republican Presidents have long recognized this. Grant and Harrison vainly attempted to secure control of the islands. Roosevelt came very near to doing so, but Roosevelt was a better trader than Wilson—for in 1902 we might have taken the islands for $5,000,000 as against the twenty-five millions which are now to be paid.

It is not surprising that the British blacklist has gotten on the President's nerves. The bad weather and the exigencies of the political campaign combine to render him particularly susceptible to irritation, and it is exasperating, of course, to find himself in a position where he must give attention to so repugnant a topic as the matter of protecting American trade. It is fundamental of this administration that an American who embarks in an enterprise which entails activity in a foreign land, does so at his own risk. This has been repeatedly and emphatically stated as regards those misguided but energetic individuals who have tried to develop business in Mexico or the Orient, and the present "crisis" puts the White House in no little quandary. But we have no doubt that we shall presently witness a splendid series of notes on their way to London and that soon we shall be called upon once more to acclaim another "great diplomatic victory," while the British blacklist still continues to exist with unabated vigor.

Those "blars" from whom the President said he got his information about Mexico are perhaps the gentlemen referred to in John Lind's report to the State Department—now belatedly made public. Referring to a certain class of Mexicans, Gov. Lind wrote: "They are the most valuable and plausible blars that I ever came in contact with."

The Progressives of Nebraska are taking no chances in their purpose to put the Democrats out of business. They have formally withdrawn their candidacies for governor, United States senator and elective state offices and have substituted the names of the Republican candidates. A Nebraska Progressive this year who wants to be an assistant Democratic cannot hide behind the cloak of his party ticket. He will have to shift his mark over boldly into the Democratic column.

The President told his postmasters in national convention assembled that he had no interest in any political party "except as an instrument of achievement." It is entirely clear that his present and most pressing interest in the Democratic party is as an instrument to help him achieve a second term.

FORTY-NINE YEARS WITHOUT A SINGLE DAY'S VACATION

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Forty-nine years without a working day off, that is the record of Joseph P. Bean, 4022 Washington avenue, who has just retired on a pension by the New York Central lines. For the greater part of the time he had his hand on a throttle as a locomotive engineer and was retired because he had reached the age of 70.

It was on May 1, 1867 that he first went to work for the company as a locomotive fireman on the Lake Shore and Michigan Central in the suburban service. It was only a few years later that he was promoted to the post of engineer and during all those years he ran locomotives of all types without ever having been in an accident.

"Good health, the result of clean living," bits made me a good man physically," was his only explanation. "I never did any drinking so my nerves were always in good shape and I never needed a vacation. That's the reason I never took one. Safety first, was my motto long before it became a slogan of the public and it applied to my physical well being as well as my work."

"You always hear a lot of talk about men who retire on a pension being anxious to get back into harness. May be, but I have no such desire. I'm just as glad to quit as I was to get a job nearly fifty years ago."

Mr. Bean has a wife and four children all doing well, one of them being a well known attorney.

BAYONNE BABIES DRINK BEER INSTEAD OF MILK

Bayonne, N. J., Aug. 11.—Bayonne babies are tipplers. A report submitted to the board of directors of the city's Child Welfare Station of Dr. W. W. Riba, medical examiner shows a majority of the infants in the foreign section are started out on a diet of beer long before they are old enough to lift their tiny feet to a brass rail.

"Most of the foreign babies in Bayonne begin receiving their daily portion of beer as soon as they are weaned," Dr. Riba said. "In some instances, it is due to the fact that beer is cheaper than cow's milk, and in others to the belief that it is a better diet. As a matter of fact the stomach of many baby who receives beer regularly is burned so badly that the child in after years, is a perfect subject for every epidemic—including infantile paralysis—that sweeps the country."

Bayonne health authorities are considering a plan to make the babies teetotalers.

PEOPLES' OPINION

Should Take Steps to Get the Lobster Hatchery

Editor Herald:

Will you kindly give this article space in an early issue of your paper? Nothing in a recent issue of several daily newspapers that the United States Bureau of Fisheries is to establish a lobster hatchery somewhere on the North Atlantic coast. I take this means of bringing to the attention of the citizens of this community the fact that old Portsmouth with its deep river and creeks always open for navigation and very desirable and properly located for a government fish hatchery station.

It is well known that hundreds of persons are dependent upon the lobster industry in this city, Kittery, York, Hampton and the Isles of Shoals and that the nearby creeks are a natural and favorable spawning grounds for this desirable shell fish.

It is said that a $5,000 plant will be established at some point between Gloucester and Portland. It is a well known fact that any appropriation (in the interest of the fishermen) made by the State of New Hampshire is used in the northern part of the state and during my time I cannot even remember of a single penny being spent for improvements in this vicinity. The United States, however, if they should decide to locate such an important industry here would be favored with great advantages along our coast line.

Let each person having the interest of this section at heart sit down and write our representatives and senators at Washington a personal letter asking their aid in procuring the hatchery in this section, and this includes the public spirited citizens along the Maine shores across the Piscataqua.

Respectfully,

B. F. MUGHRIDGE, JR.

Portsmouth Represented in 1877
"The Observant Citizen" of the Boston Post of August 9, says that August is the only month without a holiday, but those who feel the strain of a month without a holiday too much to endure can run up to Vermont, Wednesday of next week and help the Vermonters celebrate the anniversary of the battle of Bennington. This reminds me that it was back in 1877 that the Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, of which the writer was a member, was present at the dedication of the battle of Bennington monument as escort to Governor Prescott of New Hampshire and passed in review before the late President Hayes of the United States.

SWITZERLAND GETS MORE BIG GUNS

(Special to The Herald)
Bern, August 11.—The third lot of the heavy howitzers built for the Swiss government by the Krupp works has arrived here. Switzerland now possesses more than thirty of these monster guns. The ammunition necessary for the great howitzers has also been furnished by the Krupp works with the consent of the German government. The giant guns are already in position along the border of France and Upper Alsace where they will be used to prevent a possible attempt by the belligerents to break through the Swiss territory.

COAL SHORTAGE TIES UP MANY INDUSTRIES

(Special to The Herald)
Petrograd, Aug. 11.—A great scarcity of coal prevails throughout Russia at the present time. The result has been that in many places, especially at Kharkoff, all local industrial undertakings have been held up for an unlimited period. The street car station and factories are closed. What the outcome may be it is at present impossible to say, as prior to the outbreak of the war, the bulk of the coal was provided by Germany and Poland.

TO THE MEMORY OF R. H. B.

Beside the bier of him we called a friend

In recent silence here we stand;

And though he met with no untimely end,

But after many honored years and grand

Has passed away, we scarce can realize

That he is dead. And on the upturned face

We gaze with awe we can not well disguise,

For him 'tis so unusual a place

Whose life has been so active all his years

In business that left no place for rust.

Each act of real kindness now appears

Which he has shown us, and we surely must

And will remember, though it be in tears,

And hold his memory sacred ever his end

Remembering so of what's in store for us

We bid farewell to him our kindly friend,

Well knowing we ourselves will yet be thus.

SUN'S RAYS HATCH CHICKENS IN INDIANA

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 11.—For twelve days a faithful hen belonging to Edward Jobs sat on her nest in the boiling sun. Then she left. For 12 more days the hot rays of the sun beat down on the nest. John was pleasantly surprised at the end of this period to find eight little chickens in the nest. They had been hatched by the sun. Nature's incubator has gone mad's device one better, says Jobs who vouches for the story under oath.

NON-SUBMERSIBLE "SUB-MARINES"

Philadelphia, Aug. 11.—Can a citizen volunteer for training in the duties of the United States Marine Corps, holding himself in readiness to take the place of a regular marine killed in war, be properly termed a submarine? Friends of the citizen "sea soldiers" are telling them that a marine, not regularly a marine, although caught in the signals and likely to be called upon to "pinch hit" for a regular marine, must necessarily be a submarine. The rookies themselves say that Noah Webster overlooked this knotty problem when he wrote his best seller and they are calling on sport editors to decide the question.

That is what the rookies saw at the marine corps training camp in Landsowne, Pa., would like to know.

ITALIAN DRIVE MOVES FORWARD TOWARD TRIESTE

Austrians Fleeing South With Cavalry in Pursuit—
Russian Forces are Reported Within Three Miles of Stanislaw.

Rome, Aug. 10.—South of Goritz the Italian forces that captured Monte San Michele are reported advancing through the river Vercopo valley, cavalry at some places in pursuit of the retreating enemy.

Petrograd, Aug. 10.—The railway station of Krynin, only three miles east of Stanislaw, has been captured by the advancing Russian army. It was officially announced today.

Rome, Aug. 10.—The Austrian aviation station of Albovizza, six miles east of Goritz has been captured by Italian troops, who are continuing the pursuit of the Austrian force that retreated from Goritz according to reports received today.

Cavalry detachments and bersaglieri cyclist detachments entered Albovizza after putting to flight the Austrian rear guard, which attempted to make a stand in the eastern suburbs of Goritz. In this action a body of Austrian troops is reported to have been cut off from the main force.

Pursuit of the Austrian army has been somewhat hampered by the necessity of repairing bridges and roadways destroyed by the enemy before the retreat from Goritz. Infantry detachments, however, are in close contact with the Austrian right wing, striking, unceasing blows and attempting to cut off and surround bodies of Austrian troops moving southward toward the Carso plateau.

Large numbers of heavy guns, some of which the enemy had made ineffectual attempts to destroy, fell into the hands of Gen. Cadorna's forces at Goritz.

King Victor Emmanuel is understood to have been at the Isonzo front when Goritz fell, though he has not yet entered the Austrian stronghold. Great street demonstrations occurred in Rome last night when the capture of Goritz was announced. Crowds marched through the streets, singing the Italian and allied anthems and cheering the King, the Italian commanders and the army.

The public accepts the capture of Goritz as only the beginning of a great move southward which they believe will culminate in the taking of Trieste. It is believed here that the whole Austrian Isonzo front, from Tolmino southward, eventually will be broken.

Correspondents report that the capture of one of the heights surrounding Goritz was effected by a daring enterprise. The Italians dug long underground tunnels to the Austrian lines. After a heavy bombardment several hundred Italians suddenly swarmed from the mouths of these tunnels and fell upon the Austrians, who were taken completely by surprise.

French Advance Farther North of the Hem Woods

Paris, Aug. 10.—Despite fog and rain, French troops made further progress in the allies' Somme offensive last night, advancing in the region north of the Hem woods, taking 100 prisoners and six machine guns. It was officially announced today. South of the Somme a German reconnaissance was dispersed.

On the Verdun front, no important infantry fighting occurred during the night. There was an intermittent bombardment in the region of Fleury and the Vaux-Chapelle woods.

In the Vosges the German attack on French positions northeast of Altkirch failed utterly.

Many air raids were carried out last night. On the Somme front three German aeroplanes were defeated.

Estimate 29,000 Captured at Goritz

Rome, Aug. 10.—About 29,000 prisoners were captured by the Italians at Goritz, according to an official announcement by the war office. The statement says an accurate estimate is impossible at present, as numbers of prisoners are being brought in hourly. Additional gains made by Australians.

London, Aug. 10.—Further progress northwest of Pozieres, where the Australians yesterday penetrated German trenches 200 yards on a 600-yard front, was reported by Gen. Hall. This afternoon the Australians have gained all local objectives, which are rapidly being consolidated.

The night was generally quiet, except for the bombardment of British positions southeast of Trones wood by German artillery.

MAKES NATIONAL PARK ON OUR ONLY VOLCANO

(Department of the Interior, Office of the Secretary.)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The Lassen Volcanic National Park, the bill creating which President Wilson has just signed, is California's fourth national park. Lassen Peak, which showed volcanic activity only a few years ago, was set apart as a national monument in 1906. Cinder Cone, in its immediate neighborhood was also thus distinguished at the same time. The new National Park includes both of these remarkable volcanic monuments within its area of 82,880 acres.

The region is one of extraordinary interest and the only one in the United States exhibiting recent volcanic action. Among its features are Lassen Peak, 10,437 feet elevation and still exhibiting some volcanic activity; North Peak, 8,500 feet elevation; South Peak, over 9,200 feet elevation; Prospect Peak, over 9,200 feet elevation; Cinder Cone, 6,907 feet elevation; the Devil's Half Acre; showing hot springs and mud geysers; Humpass, Morgan and other hot springs; seven lakes, many interesting ice caves and lakes, of volcanic glass; numerous trout streams; and beautiful and majestic canyons. There are forests of yellow pine, fir, white pine, and lodgepole.

Professor Douglas W. Johnson of Columbia University thus describes a recent visit to this great Pacific coast volcano:

"From the summit we had magnificent views of the Northern Sierras, the Cascades, the distant Coast ranges, and the mountains of the Great Basin, a panorama which for grandeur can be equaled at but few places in the country."

"The products of recent volcanic activity, the escaping steam and gases, the ruined forests for miles to the eastward, marking the path of the great blast which swept destruction before it, reminding one of the similar blast which destroyed San Pierre, Martinique, all bore witness to the activities of that force of nature, which has always inspired man with the greatest awe and wonder. To be able to view such phenomena in our own country with ease and safety is one of the striking merits of the Lassen Peak locality."

"Within easy reach of the mountain base are boiling lakes and springs, mud volcanoes, and other evidences of volcanic heat which appeal most strongly to the imagination of every visitor. By means of saddle horses the entire party also visited the remarkable Cinder Cone which erupted a few hundred years ago, and which is a short distance to the east of the main peak. From the base of this cone there spread out lava flows whose fresh, rugged surface gave every appearance of having been erupted yesterday, and which are in reality less than a hundred years old. The opening in the vase of the Cinder Cone from which the lava poured forth is still well preserved, and easily accessible to the visitor. The sides of the cone are easily climbed, and from the summit one may look down into a double crater as perfectly preserved and as symmetrical as though the eruption had just ceased."

"On all sides of the cone are the greyish white ash deposits, which descending upon the surrounding forest, burned and killed the trees, leaving the trunks still standing as monuments to the disaster which overtook them. Close by is Snag Lake, of particular interest to the tourist because he can plainly see the lobe of the lava flow which recently dammed the valley to form the lake, while from the lake waters project the 'snags' or trunks of trees drowned by the rising waters, and not yet rotted away."

"On the whole it is difficult to imagine a region where the more striking phenomena of nature are developed on a grander scale or in a manner calculated to appeal more strongly to the average individual. The Lassen Peak country is so exceptional that it has always justified special protection because of the natural wonders included in the area and the excellent camping sites which favor the summer visitor. The recent activity of the volcano has simply added to the wonders already existing in the district."

PRIMARY FILINGS CLOSE AT MIDNIGHT TONIGHT

Manchester, Aug. 10.—Political party leaders were thrown into confusion this morning by the announcement from the office of the secretary of state that the filing of declarations for the offices of representative, delegate, or the war offices would close on Friday night at midnight. They had supposed that this would not take place until Saturday at midnight and some believed that Monday was the day.

The published reports yesterday naming Monday as the day attracted the attention of assistant secretary of state, Robert Pillsbury of this city, and he took the matter up with Secretary of state, Edwin C. Bean. The latter decided that Friday evening at midnight would terminate the time for filing.

clear up any fear that the U-hout warfare of a year ago will be reopened—containing, it is said, tacit admission that the campaign was a mistake.

THE OTHER WORLD

It lies around us like a cloud—
A world we do not see;
Yet the sweet closing of an eye
May bring us there to be.

Its gentle breezes fan our cheek
And our worldly cares;
Its gentle voices whisper love,
And mingle with our prayers.

Sweet hearts around us thrush and heat
Sweet helping hands are stirred;
And palpitate the vein between
With breathings almost heard.

And in the hush of rest they bring 'Tis easy now to see
How lovely and how sweet a pass
The hours of death may be.

To close the eye and close the ear,
Wrapped in a trance of bliss,
And gently laid in loving arms,
To swoon to that—from this.

Scarcely knowing if we wake or sleep,
Scarcely asking where we are,
To find all evil sink away
All sorrow and all care.

Sweet souls around us, watch us still,
Press nearer, to our side;
Into our thoughts, into our prayers
With gentle helpings glide.

Let death between us be as naught—
A deed and vanished stream;
Your joy be the reality;
Our suffering life the dream.

VON TIRPITZ OUT FOR GOOD IS U. S. BELIEF

PUBLICATION OF LATEST LUSITANIA NOTE REGARDED AS ANSWER TO FEAR OVER
U-BOATS.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Announcement that the last German note on the Lusitania, submitted to the state department nearly six months ago, is to be published is the direct answer to those who feared a return to power of the Von Tirpitz element in Germany, with a consequent renewal of ruthless submarine warfare, officials asserted today. The publication is to be made with Germany's consent.

The note, declaring the killing of Americans on the Lusitania was unintentional and expressing a profound regret for the loss of American life, is declared to be a complete guarantee in the name of the German people against any such submarine warfare as that which precipitated the recent German-American crisis. It declares a campaign of reprisal against other than enemy subjects to be a "mistake" and is said to agree entirely with this country's view that non-combatants and particularly neutrals must not suffer.

Acceptances of the principles in the note is declared assured by its proposed publication. It is expected to

SAVES CLOWN'S BODY FROM POTTER'S FIELD

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 11.—"Hurted by friends, Gena but not forgotten." This inscription scrawled on a piece of pasteboard, tacked on a "stick" which is sunk into the soft earth of a new made mound, marks the grave of Joseph Jarar, former member of the clown troupe of a great circus. Jarar, the man who had made thousands laugh, died in Memphis. John Milton, his "pal," who stuck with him until the end, walked the streets of Memphis collecting money until he secured enough to save the remains from Potter's field.

The body was laid away in a grave in the Raleigh cemetery. Only the pall bearers and John Milton were at the funeral. There were no ceremonies. After the earth had closed over the remains of his friend, Milton wrote the brief inscription on a piece of pasteboard, stuck it on the grave and departed with tear dimmed eyes. Jarar is said to have lived in his youth at Lowell, Mass.

Philip Bartholomae and Guy Bolton, and the story is founded on the false "Over-Night," which delighted Boston audiences when it played there a few seasons ago. The lyrics are by Schuyler Greene and the music by Jerome Kern.

"Very Good Eddie" is said to be a companion piece to "Nobody Home," which opened the season at this house just about a year ago, and ran for three months in Boston, possessing all of its charm, although entirely different in theme. It is said even to surpass its predecessor in the luxury of the 14 sparkling and tuneful popular musical numbers.

The story is handled in the most uproarious, yet delicate, manner by the author. Laughing situations follow one another in speed limit fashion. The music is exceptionally tuneful and "Very Good Eddie" is said by the New York critics to have the smartest chorus which has been seen on the stage for a long time. These fascinating girls wear the latest things in the way of dresses; in fact, there are all kinds of styles of girls and gowns to attract attention. In the cast of Boston favorites are many who were in the original cast when this show played the Princess Theatre, New York, including Ernest Truex, Alvie Dovey, Ann Orr, Tyler Brooke, Florence Earle, Magna Paxton, Jean De Brine, Harry Dankey, Kathleen George, Julia Mills, Marion Davis and many others.

A new team of Spanish dancers who have never been in America before will be seen in the first act of "Very Good Eddie." These temperate dancers are billed as Laurette and Peppino, and if one can believe all of the glowing adjectives which have preceded them from South America and across the Atlantic from Gay Paree, these are the real dancers who are going to make all other dancers fade away into insignificance.

Miss Laurette is a beautiful Castilian girl from the south of Spain, while Monsieur Peppino is a young Frenchman.

BATHS FOR HOBOS WHO VISIT MEMPHIS

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 11.—Chief of Police Perry has created consternation among the hobo population that frequents Memphis by announcing that hereafter all "bobs" who become guests of his bathhouse must take a bath, using plenty of soap, before they can occupy a cell. The news has spread like wildfire. From Chicago to New Orleans and from Atlanta to Kansas City the "bobs" are discussing the innovation in the Memphis jail with consternation.

CUNARD COMPANY SUE FOR LUSITANIA LOSSES.

New York, Aug. 11.—Sixteen suits, aggregating $1,000,000, have been brought against the Cunard Steamship Company in the Federal Court, growing out of the loss of lives on the S. S. Lusitania, sunk by a German submarine on May 7, 1915. Seventeen more suits will be filed within a few days. The complaints recite that prior to the date of the liner's sailing from this port for Liverpool, numerous notices were posted or had appeared in the newspapers that the liner would be destroyed by a submarine or German warship; also that the presence of submarines in the port was known to the officers of the company but that the captain failed to take proper precautions.

It is reported that Boston parties contemplate the purchase of the lot of land on the corner of Vaughan and School streets adjacent to the old Gray house for the purpose of erecting a large brick apartment house, similar to the one erected on High street by Miss Claire George.

IMPORTANT MILITARY DECISION

JUDGE RULES THAT MILITIAMAN WHO REFUSED TO TAKE OATH CANNOT BE FORCED TO DO DUTY.

Boston, Aug. 10.—Judge Dodge of the U. S. District Court decided today that no militiaman whose original contract of enlistment did not contain the words "to obey the President" can be compelled to take the oath for service under the defense act and ordered discharged from military custody Alexander M. Emerson, a trooper in the 1st squadron cavalry M. V. M., who refused to take the master oath. Emerson fought the military officers in charge of the camp through service of a writ of habeas corpus. This decision effects all militiamen in every state but Kansas which is the only state which had in its oath the words "to obey the President." Other state oaths said "to obey the Constitution."

On account of the far-reaching effect of the decision, United States District Attorney Anderson filed notice of appeal, and Emerson was held on his personal recognizance to appear at subsequent hearings. The case was argued by attorneys on both sides for over four hours. District Attorney Anderson argued that a militiaman on being called to an assembly ground could be made to take the oath under the new Defense Act.

No Force Possible. Judge Dodge, however, in his decision, ruled that no militiaman whose original contract of enlistment did not contain the oath "to obey the President" was obliged to take the oath under the Federal act, unless he willingly consented.

His ruling also pointed out that no person could be made to take an oath. When a militiaman refused to take the oath for federal service, and was told that he could go home, as was the case at Framingham, when Emerson "balked," together with several hundred others, he was no longer subject to further call for service under his original enlistment.

Not Moved Yet

"And those are the same beautiful mountains," said the enthusiast from the city. "The very same ones," replied the hotel proprietor. "We had a fellow up here a short time ago who claimed to have a wonderful lot of faith, but he didn't move 'em."—Yankers Statesman.

PRESENT BURNING OF BAD FAITH STRUCTURE

Such a Burning Has Never Taken Place Until Now.

Day of the Lord a Period in the Close of the Present Age—Burning Now Under Way—Faith Structure of Many Destroyed—Christians Only Have Had a Structure Built on Christ. Structures of Gold, Silver and Precious Stones Will Stand—All Others Will Be Consumed—Some Christians Saved "So as by Fire"—The Faithful Now Being Made Manifest.

New York City, Aug. 10.—Pastor Russell was at the New York City Temple today, and delivered an address of great power. His text was, "Every man's work shall be made manifest, for the Day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is."—1 Corinthians 3:13. The Pastor declared that his text was one of many Scriptures which apply to our day. The reference is not to a twenty-four-hour day, but to a period of time in the end of this Gospel Age, during which things will be different from what they had been before. The context shows that the text deals only with Christians; for these alone build upon Christ. One class builds with the truths of God's Word; the other, with the world, lay and subtle of tradition and creeds of the Dark Ages. The light of knowledge is consuming the false-faith structures of the majority of professed Christians. In discarding the errors of the past many have also discarded true faith in God and His Word. Those whose faith structures are unburned are only those who understand God's Word.

The Scriptures show that God has divided the history of the world under its sin and death experience into six great Days of a thousand years each, to be followed by a great Sabbath Day. God has given fallen man this Week in which to demonstrate what the race can do toward their own uplift, to prove whether they can manage themselves. Mankind have tried in vain to overcome the weaknesses and infirmities of the race—mental, moral and physical. Gradually the whole world is being convinced that unless the Almighty shall assist them, they are hopeless.

We have reached the end of man's Work Week. Now is the Day of reckoning. We are living in the Day of the Lord, in which occur special trials, blessings and enlightenment. As the fire of trouble spreads, the light of Truth spreads also. The whole world is being involved. This is exactly what the Bible has predicted for this Day of the Lord.

"The Fire of That Day." The Scriptures represent God as a consuming Fire and as Light. (Hebrews 12:29; 1 John 1:5.) Both figures of speech apply to Him. The sun is a ball of fire and a source of light. God is a consuming fire to every form of iniquity, of injustice. Therefore all systems founded upon selfishness and iniquity must go down in this great Day of the Lord, when He has risen to shake terribly the earth, to shake down all unrighteousness.—Isaiah 2:12-22.

In this present time of trouble and distress of nations, there is a blessing for "the children of the light," while the consuming fire is destroying everything wrong. This fire is burning up false faith and false doctrines, together with all that is built thereon. Much that is taught and accepted as Truth is utterly subversive of all true faith and doctrine. The fire of God in this Day of Christ will destroy all this false teaching and the works thereof.

The great universities of Europe and America today are hot-beds of infidelity, although the majority of them were originally established for the Christian education of our youth. Today there are few Christian colleges. Young people sent to these institutions of learning soon lose faith in the Bible as the Word of God. The fires of knowledge almost consume their faith in God. These young people need our help; for many of them wish to believe, if only they knew what is right, what is true.

When we tell them about the fall of Adam, the Redemption in Christ, the selection of the Church during this Gospel Age, and the blessing of all mankind during the next Age, when the willing and obedient shall, through the Messianic Kingdom, be helped out of sin and death into life and peace, we give them something that is soul-satisfying. The Evolution theory, on the other hand, is poor comfort to a hungry, sorrowing heart. The Scriptures indicate that everything except the Truth and structures built thereon will be consumed in this Day, begun more than forty years ago. Not only the ecclesiastical "heavens," but the social "earth," with all its elements—political, financial, etc.—will be burned. The fire will last even down into the Millennium Age; for our God is irreconcilably opposed to all injustice, impurity and unrighteousness. After His work has been accomplished, ours will be a clean world.

The work will be done by The Herald's own staff and no outside assistance will be employed in the work. CITY NEWS

Talk in Certain Quarters

A former government employee is being mentioned as a majority candidate in certain quarters by the Republicans.

More Patch Work

Once again the street department is engaged in patch work on the asphalt on Market Square. This seems to be necessary each year. However, it won't be long before it all will have to be practically removed on the square.

Will Need Rooms

Many rooms will be needed by visiting firemen to this city next month and it is hoped that all will be accommodated. Chief Engineer Woods is anxious that people who can help out in any way will make it known to any official of the department.

Not in the Water Yet

The contractor is still at work on the children's swimming tank at the playgrounds. However, it is expected that it will be placed in the pond on Saturday or Monday.

Still Burning in Daylight

The white way lights continue to burn long after daylight each day. Some of that wasted fuel applied to lights in other parts of the city would more than be appreciated by the taxpayers in sections where the candlepower has been reduced to such an extent that the lights resemble a red herring.

PIANO RECITAL

A splendid piano recital was given at the Green Acre Baptist on Wednesday evening by the new French pianist Leo Vol Moira. A large and enthusiastic audience enjoyed the program of unusual interest, ranging from the old school of Brahms and Liszt to the most modern French composers.

LAWN PARTY BIG SUCCESS

Affair Given by Catholic Society of Kittery Largely Attended.

The midsummer festival and lawn party held under the auspices of the Catholic Society of Kittery on the parish grounds, Whipple road on Thursday evening was a big success in every way. There was a large attendance including many from this city, Elliot and Kittery Point.

There were many prettily decorated booths and the various articles met with ready sale. The grounds were brilliantly illuminated with scores of electric lights.

A fine concert was rendered by Kirkpatrick's brass band, which also furnished music for dancing later in the evening.

The various booths and those in charge were as follows:

St. Rita's Guild, fancy work and aprons—Mrs. John H. Desmond and Mrs. Gertrude Parrish.

Refreshments—Mrs. Thomas Cannon and Miss Lucy Flea.

Fish Pond—Mrs. James Dwyer.

Ice cream—Mrs. Cora Ryan and Mrs. John Edwards.

Chair, fancy articles—Miss Nellie Colleton, Mrs. Joseph Brown and Mrs. Nellie Schick.

Candy wheel—H. T. Colleton.

Mrs. P. A. Thompson was chairman of the general committee, and to her great credit is due for the success of the affair and also to all others who so ably assisted her. Many thanks are expressed to J. P. Sugrue who so kindly postponed the weekly band concert which was to have been on Thursday evening. Joseph Brown had charge of the tickets.

AT THE COLONIAL.

Did you break into society with Lew Williams at the Colonial yesterday? If so, it was one of the funniest breaks you ever made. As the judge who has accumulated the coin and is willing (?) to loosen up a little of the roll to mingle with the high fliers, Lew is a living scream.

The whole show has a novel flavor that while it is highly enjoyable is hard to explain. It is hard to believe that a show of this quality can be given for the little Colonial prices. Mr. Williams himself is an artist of class and the same pertains to every member of the cast. Musically the show is far ahead of the average. More pretentious singers and songs make it that. In every way "Breaking Into Society" is a superior amusement enterprise and one you can hardly afford to miss.

The song numbers, while there is a satisfying amount of popular music, are selected from more serious works and the manner in which they are sung leaves nothing to be desired. The picture program won many kind words yesterday and will continue to do so.
